

ELSEVIER

ScienceDirect

User Quick Start Guide

Enabling efficient research for 21 years and counting, Elsevier's ScienceDirect lets you explore wide-ranging subjects in:

From basic science to current developments to novel research, researchers worldwide are downloading two million PDFs of relevant content each day from ScienceDirect.

A ScienceDirect subscription gives you access to 18 million full-text articles from over 2,650 journals and more than 42,000 book titles. With more than 1,400,000 open access articles at your fingertips, the next big step towards discovery is up to you!

Let's get you started...

Create a user account

With an Elsevier account, you unlock features specifically designed to support your research goals. Having an account enables you to:

- Set up alerts for searches, journals and book series
- Receive recommendations personalized to your reading history
- Access and manage your reading and search history
- Review the privacy options for your account

ScienceDirect

ELSEVIER

Welcome

Enter your email to continue with ScienceDirect

Email

Continue

Sign in via your institution

Start screen on ScienceDirect to set up an Elsevier account

Search

Now that you're on ScienceDirect, it's time to look around.

The ScienceDirect search functionality offers a multitude of search fields, filters and alerts to focus your search and improve your workflow. First, choose the search technique you prefer.

If you want a broad search that you can filter afterwards, head to the search bar for a quick search:

ScienceDirect

Journals &amp; Books

John Johnson

Search for peer-reviewed journal articles and book chapters (including open access content)

Advanced search

Enter keywords, an author name, or the title of a journal or book to get started.

Search

You might want to begin with a narrow search instead, so click on Advanced Search where you'll see how easy it is to get specific. Your previous searches will be conveniently saved for you at the bottom of the page.

On the Search results page, you can:

- Filter for open access/open archives articles
- Check out suggested publications
- Set search alerts
- Download search alerts list as a .CSV

Advanced Search

Search tips ?

Find articles with these terms

In this journal or book title

Year(s)

Author(s)

Author affiliation

Volume(s)

Issue(s)

Page(s)

✓ Show all fields

Search

Recent searches

Journal or book title: Endeavour

View of filter tabs part of Advanced Search

Browse

If you want to begin your ScienceDirect experience by browsing through the content instead of searching, just click on Journals and Books on the homepage.

This modernized browse page has enhanced search capabilities and simpler URL composition.

- Refine publications by domain and sub-domain
- Select the type of publications
- Select journals accepting submissions
- Choose the type of access

A
B
C
D
E
F
G
H
I
J
K
L
M
N
O
P
Q
R
S
T
U
V
W
X
Y
Z
0-9

Easy to evaluate journal homepages

When your research takes you to the homepage of a journal, all information about that journal is easily accessible. You spend less time trying to find the right information and more time using what you find in your workflow.

- Improved navigation allows you to discover relevant content faster
- Access indicators help identify available content, including open access
- Easy links to submit your article or find the Guide for author

ScienceDirect Journals & Books John Johnson

Tourism Management 16.5 CiteScore 10.967 Impact Factor
Supports open access

Articles & Issues About Publish Search in this journal Submit your article Guide for authors

Latest issue
Volume 89
In progress
April 2022

About the journal
Formerly known as International Journal of Tourism Management;
Tourism Management is the leading international journal for all those concerned with the management, including planning, of travel and tourism.
Tourism comprises a multitude of activities which together form one of the world's fastest growing international sectors. The journal takes an ...
Read more

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief
Cathy Hsu, PhD

Editor
Stephen Page

Managing Editor
Sangwon Park

FEEDBACK

Clear identity via book homepages

When you access books on ScienceDirect, you'll see right away that you're consulting a trusted, high-quality source. The book homepages include:

- Detailed book information
- Intuitive ways to navigate and interact with content
- One-second load times

Plus, go ahead and browse books on multiple devices wherever you are.

A view of an example Books homepage on desktop, tablet and smartphone

ScienceDirect Topics expand your knowledge with foundational content

ScienceDirect Topics have become a popular feature for researchers and students looking to broaden their understanding of scholarly and technical terms. Topics are especially useful for onboarding in interdisciplinary research or just to learn or better understand a new concept.

Topics reveal succinct, selected contextual information from reference books, valuable content when and where you needed it in your natural research workflow. You can access Topics via ScienceDirect and also through search engines such as Google.

When working in ScienceDirect, simply hover over a highlighted word in the article you're reading. Via hyperlink, you can immediately go to a page with authoritative and foundational content for that term.

1. Introduction

Problematic internet use (PIU) is a fundamental contributor to prolonged screen-time, elevating the odds of mental and socioemotional difficulties among teenagers (Oswald et al., 2020), and associated with a wide spectrum of risky online activities, encompassing but not limited to cyberbullying, internet pornography, and internet fraud (Chao et al., 2020), of which cyberbullying is in the focus of the present study. The prevalence

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect interface for the 'Cyberbullying' topic. At the top, the ScienceDirect logo and user profile 'John Johnson' are visible. The main content area features the title 'Cyberbullying' and a brief definition: 'Cyberbullying is often an extension of traditional forms of bullying that make their way from the classroom and school yard to cyberspace (Gleeson, 2014; Li, 2007)'. Below this, it states 'From: Reducing Cyberbullying in Schools, 2018'. To the right, under 'Related terms:', there are links for 'Mobile Phones, Research Workers' and 'View all Topics >'. At the bottom of the main content area, there are options to '+ Add to Mendeley', 'Download as PDF', and 'Set alert', along with a link to 'About this page'. Below the main content area, there are two columns of related content. The left column is titled 'Cyberbullying' and lists 'Elizabeth Whittaker, Robin M. Kowalski, in International Encyclopedia of the Social & Behavioral Sciences (Second Edition), 2015'. The right column is titled 'Cyberbullying: Definition, consequences, prevalence' and lists 'Marilyn Campbell, Sheri Bauman, in Reducing Cyberbullying in Schools, 2018'.

ScienceDirect Topics expand your knowledge with foundational content

You'll see

- A short definition
- Related terms
- Excerpts from relevant book content

Add to Mendeley, download as PDF or set an alert to save your sources and unlock critical and contextual information to find the answers you need.

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect Topics page for 'Cyberbullying'. It includes a definition: 'Cyberbullying is often an extension of traditional forms of bullying that make their way from the classroom and school yard to cyberspace (Gleeson, 2014; Li, 2007). From: Reducing Cyberbullying in Schools, 2018'. It also lists related terms: 'Cybervictimization, Systematic Review, Smartphone Addiction, Smartphone, Self-Esteem, Imbalance, Social Networking Site'. At the bottom, there are options to 'Add to Mendeley', 'Download as PDF', and 'Set alert', along with an 'About this page' link.

The excerpt is titled 'Advances in the cyberbullying literature: theory-based interventions'. It is by Christopher P. Barlett, ... Luke W. Seyfert, in 'Child and Adolescent Online Risk Exposure, 2021'. The abstract begins with 'Cyberbullying penetration and victimization have emerged as an...'

The abstract is titled 'Cyberbullying in Context' by Christopher Paul Barlett PhD, in 'Predicting Cyberbullying, 2019'. The abstract text reads: 'Cyberbullying perpetration is a pervasive social behavior that can cause many negative psychological, behavioral, and health outcomes for cyberbullying victims. Research has shown that cyberbullying...'

If you're using Google or another search engine to get more information about a term, just enter the term and ScienceDirect, and it comes up. With enhanced taxonomy across all 20 Topic domains, Topic pages are available for many disciplines including:

- Computer Science
- Engineering
- Mathematics
- Physics and Astronomy
- Economics, Econometrics and Finance
- Food Science
- Materials Science and Materials Engineering
- Earth and Environmental Sciences
- Psychology
- Social Sciences

Stay signed in to get personalized recommendations

You can prevent information overload by staying signed in while you browse and search in ScienceDirect. Personalized recommendations will make your research more effective. The more you interact with ScienceDirect while signed in, the more precise and relevant the recommendations become.

Let us help you direct the right content to you when and where you need it during your research process. We'll use machine learning and your online activity to suggest content tailored specifically to your needs.

On the homepage, click on your name and then 'My recommendations' to see what our adaptive algorithm has found for you.

My recommendations offers you a complete list of recommended research content each week, delivered to you via email.

Schedule alerts about new relevant research

Unlike Recommendations, Alerts let you know about only new research that meets your criteria.

Once you've either searched in ScienceDirect or browsed publications, you can choose to sign up for alerts. Go to 'Manage alerts', then click on either 'Journal & Book series', 'Search' or both. You can select a publication or carry out a search to set the alerts you want.

The screenshot shows the 'Alerts' section of the ScienceDirect user interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Recommendations', 'History', and 'Alerts', with 'Alerts' being the active tab. Below this, there are sub-tabs for 'Journal & Book series' and 'Search', with 'Journal & Book series' being the active sub-tab. The main content area features a heading: 'John, are you interested in keeping up to date with publications?'. Below the heading, there is a message: 'You don't have any journal, book series, and handbook alerts yet. Set up alerts and never miss updates to publications in your field of interest. To get started, go to a publication's home page and select "Set up journal alerts".' A prominent blue button with the text 'Find a publication >' is centered below the message. At the bottom of the content area, there is a link: 'Have questions about alerts? Here is a more detailed walk through. >'

Easier tracking of your reading and search history

When signed in, your Search and Reading history helps you keep track of your activities.

The 100 most recent articles you have viewed will be saved in your reading history.

You can then review, save and delete items from your ScienceDirect Reading or Search history or download the full list of entries.

Use the toggle at the top of the screen to easily switch on and off your history.

Users can manage their reading history and customize settings

Quickly export your book chapters from ScienceDirect into Mendeley

Many of you also use Mendeley, our free reference manager and an academic social network, seamlessly embedded in ScienceDirect. Knowing that importing PDFs and references from the web is an important part of many researchers' workflow, you can directly export articles from ScienceDirect into your Mendeley library

Once you've been authenticated on ScienceDirect, the Mendeley Importer will recognize that you have the right to access full-text PDFs and you can add to Mendeley with just one click.

The screenshot displays the ScienceDirect interface for a book chapter. At the top, the ScienceDirect logo and user information (John Johnson) are visible. The main content area shows the book title 'ABC Proteins' and the chapter title 'CHAPTER 19 - MULTIDRUG RESISTANCE PROTEIN 1 (ABCC1)'. A red box highlights the '+ Add to Mendeley' button, which is used for exporting the chapter to a Mendeley library. Other buttons include 'View PDF' and 'Download full book'. The left sidebar contains an 'Outline' section with links to 'INTRODUCTION', 'PROPERTIES OF MRP1', 'CLINICAL RELEVANCE OF MRP1', and 'REFERENCES'. The right sidebar features 'Recommended articles' with links to 'Towards risk-adapted therapy for rhabd...', 'YMXG Peptidase', and '4.2 Microscopic Reversibility and Free-...'. The bottom of the page shows a DOI link and a 'Get rights and content' button.

Share article

Social Sharing all accounts.

Just click on the article publications more

The screenshot shows a ScienceDirect article page. The article title is "CHAPTER 19 - MULTIDRUG RESISTANCE PROTEIN 1 (ABCC1)" by Roger G. Deeley and Susan P.C. Cole. The page includes sections for "Properties of MRP1", "Clinical Relevance of MRP1", "References", "Figures (7)", and "Tables (1)". A social sharing menu is open, showing options for Email, Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, and Reddit. The article text begins with "INTRODUCTIO... HISTORICAL BACK... THE DISCOVERY AND INITIAL CHARACTERIZATION OF MRP1". A table titled "TABLE 19.1" is also visible.

Twitter, Reddit, or email

Back on findings and long already busy workdays.

Users can share articles with the community

Access ScienceDirect remotely, whenever you want

You can access ScienceDirect anytime and anywhere. On your laptop or tablet, at home or on the road, on campus or off, you can keep your research going by accessing ScienceDirect remotely:

- Visit our Institutional access page and enter your institutional email address or the name of your organization.
- Once your institution is identified, you can sign in with your institutional credentials.
- We'll send you an email where you'll click on the 'Activate my remote access now' link
- You're ready to use ScienceDirect remotely

ScienceDirect

ELSEVIER

Find your institution

Enter your email or institution name to continue

Institutional email or name of institution

Continue

ELSEVIER About Elsevier Terms and conditions Privacy policy Help

We use cookies to help provide and enhance our service. By continuing you agree to the use of cookies

RELX Group™

A research experience accessible to all

We optimize the ScienceDirect experience for everyone, including people with impairments such as auditory, cognitive, physical, speech or visual.

Our goal is to meet level A and AA guidelines established by the W3C's Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.1 and the U.S. Section 508 Standards of the Federal Rehabilitation Act, as well as similar standards enacted by countries around the globe.

Here are some features that enhance the accessibility of ScienceDirect:

- HTML journal articles and book chapters are compatible with screen readers such as JAWS, NVDA and Apple's VoiceOver
- Pages are well structured using headings, landmarks and lists so users of assistive technology can easily jump around pages
- Math content is available in MathML, which can be spoken by text-to-speech engines or converted to Braille and pasted into math equation editors or Microsoft Office documents
- Pages employ ARIA (Accessibility for Rich Internet Applications) to enhance navigation, orientation and labeling for users of screen readers and other assistive technology
- Videos are played in a fully accessible media player (AblePlayer)
- For more information on ScienceDirect accessibility, or for accessibility related feedback and support, please refer to our accessibility statement

Security is important to you and us

We're more proactive than ever in preventing security breaches - and taking quick action if any occurs. Monitoring and communication are fundamental in keeping your interaction with ScienceDirect as secure as possible:

- We monitor on a 24/7 basis and block the session IP if we detect abnormal behavior
- We get in touch with you and ask you to investigate the particular IP
- If solved, we unblock the IP

ScienceDirect is also available via HTTPS

Seek help when you need it

Our ScienceDirect Support Center can answer your frequently asked questions and offers video tutorials and other user guides.

You can access the ScienceDirect Support Center by clicking the Help button in the upper right corner of the ScienceDirect pages or by following the link above. Now also available in Chinese and Japanese!

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect website interface. In the top right corner, there is a navigation bar with the text "Journals & Books", a question mark icon (the Help button), a library icon, and the user name "John Johnson" next to a profile icon. A dropdown menu is open from the question mark icon, listing three options: "Support for this page", "ScienceDirect Support Center", "ScienceDirect 支持中心", and "ScienceDirect サポートセンター". Below the navigation bar is a search bar with the text "Search for peer-reviewed journal articles and book chapters" and three input fields labeled "Keywords", "Author name", and "Journal/book title". At the bottom of the page, there is a banner with the text "Elsevier journals offer the latest peer-reviewed research papers on climate change, biodiversity, renewable energy".

Click the question mark button to link to the Support Center

Stay up to date with product enhancements here.